A. Introduction

Education is a conscious and planned effort in preparing the students to be able to actively and positively participate, and develop their potential that resulted into meaningful transformation on their own life. The education basically should able to develop the value of creativity, pleasure, processing, thinking and acting toward better result. Mulyana (2011:1) states that education should be able to develop the value of creation, recreation, and habits of thinking, acting and behaving as a good member of community, as well as citizen.

It is correlated with the regulation number 20 year 2013 about the National Education System chapter 2 article 3 which states that national education serve to build the prestige character as well as the culture of country in order to educate the nation's living, aimed to develop the potential to be the faithful and god-fearing human to the god the one, well behaved, healthy, educated, skilled, creative, autonomous, and becoming democratic and responsible citizen. Education can be achieved through formal, non-formal and informal ways. Of the one formal institution is school. It has an important function in the learning process, as formal institution of education, as transformation of the moral and culture al values, and readiness in facing their life that subject to change. One of the elements of learning process. According to sagala (2015: 64-65) learning is an activity that is designed by the teacher to help someone.learn the new abilities and values within a systematic process through planning, action, and evaluation in the teaching learning process.

One of the subject matter in language subject is literature, as stated in scholl-based curriculum of Al-Azhar Islamic Junior High School in city of Serang. One of the objectives of curriculum is to make the student have competency, able to take benefit of the art works to extend the knowledge, good behaviour, and improving their language proficiency. Unfortunately, not many student are interested to learn literature. Most of them prefer to do other activities rather than reading literature work such as novel, short story, poetry, folklore, etc. according to a research on the reading habits that was conducted by ismail (2005:14) states that the average number of pages read by the students are, grade 7-8 about 30 pages a week, and 1836 pages a year, in US around 1989. Meanwhile, it was zero in Indonesia. The research proved that the literature is not interesting to read by student. Therefore there should be a good kind of learning that can motivate and has a good effect for the students. The objective of learning literature is the expectation on transformation on students' behaviour so that they can appreciate their own culture that is meaningful for their own life.

According to Widia (2010:111) that the work of literature can fulfil the spiritual needs and provide the invisible values. even the literature is not as modern as the current game, but its package is still interested to read. The process of learning literature, which writer refers to, is variety of folklore that some researchers believe still having problems related to how to deliver and lack of book collection. Students are not interested to read may be because most of the titles are too familiar for them such as malin kundang, rorojongrang, kabayan, tangkuban perahu mount, etc. while some folklore which are originated from their village are not introduced. According to barus et al (2010:4) “folklore is almost unknown by the children in indonesia” the student do not really understand the moral values presented in the folklore, the learning process is not fun, and they are rarely given any kind of learning that give them appreciation to the literature materials especially folklore, do not accustomed to learn analysing the story in the book because they think it waste their time, feeling bored to read because too much time inside the classroom, monotonous teaching methods given by the teachers, the availability of modern technology that is more interesting and advance, lack of creative thinking, not learner centered learning, the absent of the accompanying impact in building the character of the students, lack of awareness on the effect of students reading habits, inappropriate model of learning implemented, and has not applying the character in learning literature. In order to able to cultivate the cultural value within the education intensively. According to Tidar, the community based education suggest to cultivate the cultural value within the curriculum. It means that it needs an autonomous environment on institution of school as learning center, for the transformation of the people involved inside as well as community.

Within the learning context, the literature learning is not only presenting the literarture materials itself, but also should be able to influence the students to get the positive values of their learning. It is because the now reality is very concerned by the students engagement in fight among the students, free-sex, alcohol, destruction, on the religious places, killing, raping, deception, collusion, corruption, etc. so that it is urgently demanded to have learning that can bring a change to cultivate the good

Character values. Based on a research at (<http://www.kpk.co.id/modules/news/article.php?story=942>) states that the diminished of the people morality has becoming acute (corruption, immorality, criminality in all sectors, etc.) Based on the Indonesian Indexes of Corruption Perception, the percentage is increased from 2.6% in 2008 into 2.8% in 2009. The number is significantly lift Indonesia into the 111 ranks of 180 countries (lift up 15 position from previous position) surveyed by Transparency International. The data shows the damage in our country's morality condition so that it needs a recovery in every aspect of life. It is expected that it can bring an effect on the growing of character building in education as stated by Soemarno (2008:5) that the condition in Indonesia since the crisis of 1997/1998 that bring multidimensional effects which still exist until now and seems never end. It is started from the monetary, economic, politic, law, trust, leadership, and morality crisis that still progress until now. The crisis that is initially rooted from the identity crisis has becoming deeper because related to the principle problem of the character crisis on the self-esteem.

Therefore, the literature instruction should not only relying on understanding the knowledge but also makes the students to be able to appreciate, express, analyse, and implement the moral values of what they learn to be implemented either within the school or society, so that their academic success will be improved, as stated by Marvin (on Masnur, 2010: 29) about the increase of students motivation in their academic achievement based on the character education. The classes that are comprehensively involved in the character education show the decrease number of the negative behaviour on the students.; Based on the facts that were stated above, the researcher tend to do the research entitled The Analysis of Moral Message on Banten's Folklore and Its Learning Process of Character Education-Oriented at Grade Seven of A1-Azhar 11 Islamic Junior High School in City of Serang". It is considered to be an important research because it can be stated as a new research that is in line with the government program about character education.

B. Problems

Focus of the problem in this research is to find out: are there any moral values included in Banten's folklore? And; are the Banten's folklore instruction which is oriented into the character education can be implemented?

C. Purpose

The purpose of the research is generally aimed at the meaningful instruction of literature for the students to have ability, recreation, development and transformation of the student's behaviour based on the character education. The special purpose of this research is to do the analysis on the moral values included in Banten's folklore, and describe the Banten's folklore which is oriented into the character education.

D. Method

The research is using the descriptive analysis method because this descriptive research is aimed to describe systematically, factually, and accurately, towards a population or certain region about the variety of manner and particular factors (Sautoso, 2005: v). It is based on the qualitative approach of the research.

The descriptive method is used for the research object receiver or examination and also the description about the aspects of the research focus in systematic, factual way about the moral values in the Banten's folklore oriented to the character education at A1-Azhar 11 Islamic Junior High School City of Serang. Sugiono (2008:1) states that qualitative research methods is: a research method that is used to examine the condition of natural object. The researcher is the key element of the research. The technique of data collection is triangulation, inductive analysis of the data, and the result of the research is more emphasizing on the meaning and generalization.

The type of the literature research is the extrinsic approach. Extrinsic approach is one of the approaches in literature study which is based on four main views of the entire masterpiece, either from the work itself or as the creation of the writer, from situation cover a the point of the writer's view and the study of the interconnection between ideas, feelings, or the events that becomes the basic of the study either direct or indirect. And the last is based on the readers' view. Of the four views or perceptions, the researcher chooses only one, that is, a study based on the mimetic view. A literature work is a reflection of the real life situation that can be shaped into the writer's imagination toward the reality of the nature or life, and expressed into the work of the writer that is reflecting the life portraits such as science, religion, education, and social, cultural, and moral values.

Based on the theory of Abrams (Jokolelonokosti, 2009), the literature work can be seen from four point of views, those are, a) expressive (writer); b) mimetic (nature); pragmatic (reader); and objective (intrinsic). Point of view on the literature work is further explained by Leary Lewis (Jokolelonokosti, 2009) that understanding or analyzing a literature work can be focused on: a) the writer if the approach used is expressive approach; b) correlation between the work and the universality of the work's creation background if the approach is mimetic; c) the influence of the literature work towards the readers if the approach is pragmatics; and (d) the literature work as the autonomous work, as the artefact that the features can be identified if the approach is objective.

Accordingly, the idea that is expressed in the literature works in the form of folklore that can be stated as an unoriginal idea, mimetic or has additional version of the spoken story obtained from the speaker in the elements of life. According to Plato (Fanani, 2002:112) states that every kind of the art work, of course, has its own aesthetical, ethical, and moral value with its own different arrangement. The extrinsic analysis approach is suitable to be applied because it digs completely on the meaning consisted in a text, in this case is the moral values from Banten's folklore, so that the students are able to acquire the moral values of the books and correlate it to the character education within the instruction. Besides, the extrinsic analysis with mimetic point of view, students are able to give the response, and also able to give opinion of the analysis, connecting the events or situation that are similar with the true life, and apply the values of character education within the process of instruction. Location and subject of the research is in Al-Azhar 11 Islamic Junior High School grade seven in City of Serang. Source of the data is considered as the main elements in a research (Arikunto, 2002: 107). Therefore, the data that is collected in this research is the moral values that were taken from Banten's folklore. Another source of the data is School based Curriculum of Al-Azhar Islamic Junior High School academic year 2011 which is used as the guidance for the instruction. Before conducting the research the researcher decide which book that is going to be used as the object of the research. Alter then, the researcher took the sample in a purposive way of sampling consist of 20 grade seven students year 2011/2012. The writer constructs the materials of the analysis based on the extrinsic analysis guidance referring to the mimetic view to analyze the moral values in Banten' folklore. The technique is giving a test and observation.

The analysis technique that is appropriate in this research is the extrinsic analysis approach (mimetic) of Banten's folklore. Instrument is a tool used in a research. To construct the instrument, there should be a focus on the formulation of the problems such as: 1) is there any moral value included in the Banten's folklore book? 2) Is the Banten's folklore having any orientation with character education and can it be described?

E. Result

The result of the research can be described related to the moral values consisted in the Banten's Folklore such as religious, cultural; and educational values. The religious values of the Banten's folklore reflect the existence of the literature itself It is a total devotion of a human in forwarding the prestige and self-esteem of the humanity. According to Nurgiantoro (2000:328) a religious person is an individual who is trying to comprehend and experience to the full of life. Moral values in religion show more about the institution and devotion to the One God with an official rule. Religion is a fitrat natural tendency of the human with his or her faith to sooth the restlessness, and is able to achieve the spiritual regularity and faith to the Almighty Creator. According to Nurdin et al (2001:22) religion, as a natural tendency, build a faith that religion is the one and only way to fulfil the demands of human beings.

Moral religion values of Banten's folklore entitled "Oath Mosque of Inland Terate" is: 1) religious place, in the story it is stated that there is a Mushola, a small place for Moslem people to pray. This place reflects that the people still believe about the religion and devote themselves to God the Almighty. It reflects a religious people and society; 2) religious figure. It is stated in the story about an Ustadz. Ustadz is a religious figure that is believed can give wise advice and become the leader in delivering their faith and solve people's problems. Ustadz Wahid, the name of the figure, can give many kinds of solutions and honestly tell anything as a witness and a fair judge, including to the value of their religion; 3) Faithfull to the God, faith can be describe in that story like an oath and promise. Which are stated by the witness by wearing a shawl in front of the Al Quran, as a form of faith to the Almighty God, and people will automatically believe on what he says. Therefore, people of the religious society will swear in the name of their God with his lies and truths to the God and accept the reward and sin as a form kindness for what he's done as taught by the God. Ustadz Wahid as a religious figure in society is trusted to be able to solve any kinds of problems and decide the solution. Religious figure is a messenger who brings the truth. 4) Wisdom or religious advice in the story is reflected from a well behaviour in maintaining the truth if the religion, and lie will suffer by the human if they do not show his grateful to what has been given by Allah the Almighty.

Social, cultural and moral value in Banten's folklore entitled "Oath Mosque of Inland Terate", is a good story that involve the socio-cultural environment, form of socio-cultural, the way of life in socio-cultural which reflect the interaction if the human to his surrounds. According to Marx (Latief 2009: 45) human state determine his state not existence, but adversely the social existence determine his awareness. The socio-cultural values are deliberation, mutual assistance, respect, care, love of peace, fair, generous, and obey the right and obligation. According to Kosasih (2008:65) the values are: 1) cultural values related to the ideas, habitual, and creation of the human; 2) social values related to the manner of interaction with other member of society; 3) moral values related to the good and bad behaviours or manners as the foundation of human and society life.

The cultural, social and moral values in the story are 1) friendly society of Ustadz Wahid who is willing to help each other to convince the people about the one who is accused as a thief without any evidence, than the ritual of oath is conducted as a cultural value. The meaning of deliberation and friendly society to find the solution included in the aspect of socio-culture. 2) Generosity; Pak Fikar as a new citizen invited Ustadz Wahid and villagers has a generosity because he gave food for people and introduce himself a new comer so that he is occupied among the society. The generosity and interact socially is a form of socio-culture. 3) Deliberation. The tiny place of Mushola becomes a place to do a deliberation as the form of cultural values which are reflected in the habits and thinking as well as related to the cultural values. The interaction with other people to solve a problem through deliberation reflects socio-cultural values.

The education moral values in Banten's folklore "Oath Mosque of Inland Terate ", reflects the strong and weak character, good and bad, including the well behaviours such as honesty, simplicity, generosity, courage, loyalty, wise etc. according to Najib (2010:11) education which is only relied on the formal institutions cause the good potential of students uncovered totally. The moral values transmitted through the story have good instances that can be figure out by the students in their behaviour. 1) Wise and wisdom. The figure of Ustadz in the story is believed as a wise and wisdom figure in the village. In a real life situation, a Moslem scholar who is believed to be wise and wisdom in solving the problems found in the society. The values reflect are the wise and wisdom. 2) Honesty. Confession from Radik as a witness of Pak Tio parties convinced that the testament letter made is faked. It is an honesty value reflected. 3) Courage, Ustadz Wahid is considered to have courage and brave in his promise to find the thief. The good intention satisfies and calming down the people. The Ustadz figure has the courage value to face the problem. 4) Regret, Pak Tio feels guilty by making a fake letter of testament and not telling the truth as a witness reflect his regret.

Follows is an analysis of the moral religious value on Banten's folklore entitled "The Legend of Pinang Mountain" namely: 1) Trust and Belief; in the story Dampu Awang do the prayer, grateful of Awang Dampu mother and someone's disappointments, get a disaster, and cannot afford to receive a trial, it will complain to God as proof of their belief that God will preserve and protect humans. Petition is in the form of a prayer to God, including the values of faith in God. .2) Religious advise. Someone kind like Dampu Awangis admired by other people, especially for his employer who'd like to mate him with her daughter. Marriage is a good example given by Prophet as part of the Islamic tenets.

Follows is the analysis of moral, social, and cultural values of Banten's folklore. Here some analysis of Banten's folklore entitled "The Legend of Pinang Mountain" namely: right and compulsory. As a mother, the mother severe to be apart with the children, but it is the right of the son to have opportunity to find his best experience. A son has an obligation to obey, loyal and respect to his parents, so that Dampu Awang has an obligation to do that to his parents. It reflect to Dampu Awang when he wants to leave after having a permission from his mother, and he really love to have advises from her.

Obedience, loyalty and respect are compulsory for children to their parent, and it is an attitude that reflects socio-cultural values of right and compulsory aspects.

The analysis on the moral educational value of Banten folklore entitled “The Legend of Pinang Mountain” is: 1) Simplicity. The message that can be taken from the story is a mother who thinks that she has already established and wealth, but not for her son who thinks that he hasn’t make her happy because he wants to be very rich. The simple way that the mother has in the story has a simplicity value. 2) Courage, Dampu Awang has a strong intention to go far away so that his mother give the permission. Strong intention that Dampu Awang has is considered as courage. In a real life situation, the strong intention to decide something, state something has a risk and need courage. 3) Wise and prudent. The way that Dampu Awang’s mother shows is full of consideration between to release and not willing to let her son go has wise and prudent values. 4) Industrious. The meaning of the story shows that someone who is known as an industrious worker has a prize to gain. As an industrious worker, Dampu Awang, made his employer paid their attention and has intention to mate him with their daughter. Everything that is done with sincerity will be success. Thus, industrious manner is part of educational value. 5) Loyalty, the message that can be taken from the story that even Dampu Awang has already been rich and shows something that luxurious, but he still loyal to take care of his bird, perkutut, as his mother mandate. The value of loyalty is very important for someone in perform his life, and give the commitment not only to human beings but also to the other God’s creation, and this manner can be considered to have character education value. 6) Regret. Regret is shown from the confession stated by the mother, as a fear or feeling guilty for what has been done lately, even there is no chance to take it back.

Follows is the analysis of the moral religious value of Banten’s folklore entitled “The Origin of Kuwung Rock”. The analysis states: 1) trust and beliefs. When the merchant disappear, he is surprised that he cannot move his legs. There is a faith for him to find the traditional healer who can cure his paralyzed. Through the healer the illness will be healed by God. So, the value that can be taken from the story is the value of trust and belief 2) Religious advice. The awareness to remind others for not doing bad things and invite to do good things, are manners that have religious values; 3)

religious places, the faith to find a concave rock as a place to live as an ascetic. It shows the great of religious service and place. 4) Trust and believe. The trust and believe to God are shown from the story because of the ritual of recovery started by a petition on the ascetic, and an awareness of the Greatest God without being abused by any kinds of creatures that bothering the ascetic. Therefore, the values are mist and belief 5) Religious figures. _The beggar is a disguise of the religious figure who invites to do the great values.

Follows in the analysis on the moral, social, and cultural values of Banten's folklore entitled "The Origin of Kuwung Rock" namely: 1) right and compulsory. The reflection on the story is about the obligation to the chief of the village to do the right thing. However, he was very arrogant and respecting not to the others' rights. It shows that a leader should have an unpretentious manner and respecting others' rights, perform the right and compulsory in harmony. 2) Generosity. It is showing a very stingy merchant that does not want to be married even he is very rich. It reflects that a stingy person does not have any intention to share anything to the poor people. Have a desire to share to other people is part of generosity, and based on the story that the merchant do not have the value of generosity at all.3) friendly society. The message that can be taken from the story is no one can live alone. There is always a way to need somebody's help, as exemplified by the rich merchant that even he is very rich, in the very serious illness situation and cannot move anywhere, he needs other people to help him. Two of his guardians help him by carrying him on a sedan chair. Two assistants helped him with the sticks. The life on the story reflects that human needs each other and has friendly society.

Follows is an analysis on the moral education of Banten's folklore entitled "The Origin of Kuwung Rock" namely: 1) wise and wisdom, the story told that the leader of the village is someone who is wise and wisdom. But, the richness and power he has made him arrogant and do as he wants. Therefore, it can be assumed that the leader does not have the values at all. 2) Regret. Based on the story it is implied that there is a regret shown by the merchant to hope for his health recovery and he promises to give half of his wealthy for other people. It was a deep regret he has. 3) Loyalty. It is shown from the story that the guardians have loyalty to his master because he done with all of his heart and soul, without any tired feeling even until they are unconscious. Loyalty is needed for to give materialization. 4) Honesty. The honesty shown by the merchant in delivering the message, not abuse by anything. His sincerity to do the requirements mentioned without anyone accompanies him, is considered as sincerity. 5) Industrious. It can be assumed from the story that the sincerity shown by the merchant to live in ascetic for days has a manner to change, doing habitually until it is cured.

The learning process done by the students of Al-Azhar Junior high school grade seven involved teachers and students that are conducted based on the lesson plan. In a subject matter of analysing the moral value of Banten's folklore not only able to obtain the value but also able to understand the details of the message in the story that is oriented into the character education applied in the learning process. Based on the result of the beginning observation, it is assumed that the students are not accustomed. But in the next meeting, the students started to behave in a respectful manner, stand on a steady line, discipline, saying greeting before and after the learning process and wherever they are, always do the prayer, reading the Juz 'ama and short verses of Al Qur'an which are included in the religious values. The students are raising their hand while they are called by the teacher in the classroom that shows the discipline value.

During the question answer session, the students are used to shame in answering the questions, and begin to have courage in answering the questions orally, and it shows their confidence. When teacher told about the competency they are required to gain, there is a high enthusiastic manner that shows a curiosity. Based on the observation on the main activities of the learning process, by using the question-and-answer method, about the Banten's folklore creatively, students described several themes of the stories shown by the teacher. When creating a group work, students get different kinds of friends in every session, that shows autonomy and share a friendship between them so that the values can be grown.

During the discussion about the meaning of the story and the analysis on the moral value within the story, the students seem to be enthusiastic in following the stories about Banten and Nusantara told in the book. There is a sense of nationality, interaction between friends, the teacher train the students to express their ideas, suggestion, solving problems, getting answers, doing a discussion, learn to be democratic. When the students read the story of Banten's folklore they show their curiosity, responsible to what they had already done, have desire to read as their habits to motivate them to read more. After the content of the story is understood clearly, when students find the meaning of Banten's folklore, there is industrious value found from what they have done.

At the end of the learning process the students evaluate and reflect the result religiously, honestly, intentionally, by commitment, discipline, tolerant, industrious, autonomous, creative, democratic, curious, have a sense of nationality, and try reading as a habit, responsible and care to himself; people, social, and environment. After observing the 18 values of character applied in the literature learning, it is not only able to analyze the moral value in Banten's folklore but also has effect on the learning outcome. The learning on analyzing the Banten's folklore that is oriented into the character education has a significant effect on the behavior of students grade seven of Al-Azhar 11 Islamic Junior High School in City of Serang, e. g. they are accustomed to be polite, discipline, religious, saying regard when meet the teacher or friends, do a prayer before the lesson, do the analysis correctly, not accustomed to cheat the other work, has honest value, responsible to do their homework, etc. the Banten's folklore learning which is described has been oriented into the character education is qualitatively identified that it bring a transformation on the students' behaviour that the students intentionally respect the achievement, etc. so that they can build the own awareness to change, either in mind, attitude, and act or behaviour. By applying the character education during the lesson, the students achievement are increase in analyzing the moral value of the Banten's folklore shows the increase output not only on the students score but also on the behaviour and learning progress. Thus, the instruction that is oriented into the character education has a good effect on the students' behaviour as the foundation of their feeling, thinking, and attitude towards change. Therefore, the learning process should all be oriented into the character education.
